FIFTH YEAR--NO. 180

BENTON HARBOR, MICH., MONDAY, APRIL 30, 1900.

MR. HOVEY'S RAILROAD

It Will Not Be Built This Year.

Material is Too Expensive Now.

Will Not Play Dog in Manger.

It is now settled that the street railroad line of W. C. Hovey, which it is proposed to build from Double L gap to the city limits on Colfax avenue, will not be built this year.

Mr. Hovey had the arrangements all made for beginning the construction of the road in the early spring, but the jump in the price of iron and all other materials scared his company out of the project. Other capitalists are now investigating the proposition and it is likely that work on the road will be started in fall.

Mr. Hovey will not stand in the way of a road to Double L gap if any company desires to build one this year. He has informed several members of the council that he cannot put his road in operation this season and that he will not use his franchise to kill any other plan that may be proposed for a road to the new park at the gap. He will arrange with any company which may desire to build for using the tracks over the streets which his franchise covers on a basis that will be satisfactory to both parties. In case he should fail to build his road the agreement for use of the track to the gap would be come null and void. In other words Mr. Hovey says:

"Thus far I have failed to build the proposed road, and I shall not use the franchise granted me as a club to keep any other company from running to Double L gap."

The Higman realty company will proceed at once to develop the park property. For a week or two past there was a plan on foot of the city buying the park and 450 acres of land along the Paw Paw river for $100,000. The gap was to be converted into a city park and the Paw Paw was to be dredged and the land used for factory sites. The plan was meeting the approval of citizens until it was learned that the city could not borrow that amount of money for park purposes.

ON UNIVERSITY LIST.

Benton Harbor High School Approved by Chicago University.

Supt. E. A. Wilson has received notice from the Chicago University that the Benton Harbor high school has been found thoroughly satisfactory and has been placed on the list of schools affiliated with the Midway University. The college representatives, who visited Benton Harbor some time ago, inspected every department of the high school work, and consequently the subsequent action of the college board in extending affiliating relations to the high school is a decided compliment to the splendid work of both the local teachers and pupils. Supt. Wilson has been untiring in his efforts to raise the Benton Harbor schools to a parity with the best schools of the country, and his efforts, always ably supported by excellent teachers and apt students, have been successful. No city in the state has a better school system today than has Benton Harbor.

You will strengthen the delicate nerve fibres and keep the stomach, liver and kidneys in vigorous health if you take a course of Excelsior Mineral Baths, East Main street.

CITY LOSES A GOOD PASTOR

Rev. J. W. Taylor Leaves the Christian Pulpit.

Will However Remain a Resident of City.

Rev. J. W. Taylor, after a pastorate of a year and a half, closed his labors at the Christian church Sunday morning.

The relation between church and minister has been sympathetic and beneficial to each and Mr. Taylor's action is due alone to an unwillingness to permit the church to incur indebtedness on his account. It is understood that there is a movement on foot to secure his services for half time.

Mr. Taylor will preach the first and third Sunday of each month at Edgerton, Ohio. It is the intention of Mr. Taylor and family to make Benton Harbor their permanent home.

BIG FIELD DAY.

High School Boys to Meet at Eastman Springs.

St. Joseph and Benton Harbor athletes will again meet in the field. Arrangements have been made for a practice field day next Saturday at which the high schools from both sides of the river will be represented. Capt. Plummer will put his men to work this evening and with one week's hard practice it is thought Benton Harbor can carry away the honors.

The following are the events:

100 yard dash.
220 yard dash.
440 yard dash.
Mile run:
220 yard low hurdle.
Running broad jump.
Running high jump.
Running hop, skip and jump.
Pole vault.

Football kicking relay race (four in each team) with probable addition of shot put and hammer throw.

The meet will be held at Eastman Springs and will prepare the schools for the proposed county field day May 19.

The Colby-Hinkley company announced a raise in wages this morning. The men receiving $1.25 were advanced to $1.40 per day and the men receiving $1.50 a day to $1.60 per week.

The increase was a happy surprise to the men.

LAYING CONCRETE

Began This Afternoon on Pipestone Street

A work of laying the concrete foundation for the asphalt pavement on Pipestone street began this afternoon. The concrete foundation is six inches thick. On the top of this will be laid a binder an inch thick. The binder is made of crushed stone and asphalt mixed and is put down at a temperature of 300 degrees. On the binder will be an inch and a half of asphalt wearing surface, making the paving and its foundation $1 inches thick.

MAKING GOOD WAGES

GIRLS IN THE FARWELL OVER-ALL FACTORY.

The girls employed in the Farwell overall factory are making good wages. Superintendent Campbell has just furnished a list of the oldest employees in the factory showing their wages for the past two weeks. They run from $3 to $8 per week.

Mr. Campbell says that a girl who cannot make $8 per week is no good to the factory. The firm now needs 15 to 20 more operators.

KILLED HIMSELF.

Appleton, Wis., April 30.—Herman Erb, Jr., a former mayor of Appleton, committed suicide Sunday by shooting himself in the head. He had just returned from a Milwaukee sanitarium, where he had been under treatment for mental trouble. His condition was said to have been caused by worry over the Appleton library building imbroglio.

TRAGEDY IN OHIO.

Upper Sandusky, O., April 30.—William Bolyard, who lived about seven miles from this place, shot and killed his wife Sunday afternoon and then killed himself. Bolyard's wife had left him, and he asked her to return and live with him. Upon her refusal to do so he shot her and then killed himself.

TO SUPPRESS THE NEWS.

Motion Made in Vain by Attorney Fyfe.

Grief Over the Berrien Springs College.

The case of Mrs. Julia Allen Brobst vs. the People's university of Berrien Springs was being heard this morning in the circuit court.

Just before 12 o'clock and as the judge was telling the attorneys that it was nearly time to adjourn for dinner Mr. Fyfe arose and said:

"Your honor, I wish you would stop THE EVENING NEWS from publishing those inflammatory articles concerning this affair."

The judge smiled and the rest of the audience laughed. Attorney Bridgeman in his quiet way remarked the truth hurt and Attorney Andrews said that he could get 800 residents of the village of Berrien Springs to place their names at the bottom of the articles published in THE NEWS.

Judge Coolidge remarked that he did not think that the articles that had appeared in any newspaper would affect his decision in the matter and court adjourned.

The case will probably come up again tomorrow morning.

RELIGIOUS PROBLEM.

Peculiar Circumstances Surrounding Needs of the Filipinos.

Bishop Potter After a Study of the Field Believes Great Care Must Be Taken in Prosecuting Missionary Work.

Writing in the Churchman on "The Religious Situation in the Philippines," Bishop Potter says:

"It may be asked: Is it worth while to send missionaries to the Filipinos? Are they not largely, as we have been told, a Christian people, with churches, schools, ministers of religion and the like? Is it worth while to intrude upon them teachers and teachings which they have been taught to regard as of the devil (some of the recent pronouncements of the archbishop of Manila are in this connection, and to American ears, literary curiosities) and so to begin the work of higher civilization by inflaming religious prejudices and by awakening violent religious controversies?

"I confess it seems to me that this will be a question for the Filipinos as American citizens, themselves, to answer. If they want such teachers, then certainly under our system of government they are entitled to have them and no wise American, under whatever pretext, will attempt to interfere with their doing so. Already, as Chaplain Pierce has told church people in the east, there is a remarkable interest in the work of the church, not only among Filipinos, but among Chinese and others; and the church has qualifications for mission work in those islands which other Christian bodies have with rare magnanimity recognized. But beyond what is already under way, a denominational propaganda of various types would at present be only misleading and confusing.

"The Filipinos must first understand what Americanism means. They are at present so largely in the dark as to our institutions and those great ideas of political and religious freedom upon which they rest, that the perfectly well meant, but not always just or considerate, presentation of the truth by those whose attitude is one of strong antagonism to the teachings and institutions of Rome would only be inflammatory and unsettling, and might end in a situation in which the illusions of the old faith had been destroyed without the substitution of anything better. If something of the larger and freer spirit of the Roman church as it exists in the United States, in the case of many members of the communion which I am so fortunate as to count as my friends, could find its way into these new possessions of ours, it might be better adapted to the situation existing there than something more radical and destructive, and, at any rate, it would prepare the way for that temper of toleration and free inquiry in which the Americans are wont to find, in this connection, our largest hope. But meantime it ought to be distinctly understood that henceforth in the Philippines any man may worship God according to his own conscience, and, if he is so minded, to invite others to unite in doing so with him."

SHOW IMPATIENCE.

London Papers Criticise Delay in the Advance.

PRONOUNCE ROBERTS' PLAN FAILURE

Hope of Catching the Retreating Boers Has Been Abandoned—Very Little News from the Front.

London, April 30.—The only dispatch from Lord Roberts published Sunday was the usual list of deaths and sickness. The flood of newspaper dispatches describing the recent operations throws no light whatever upon the present position of affairs or upon the great question as to when the main advance is to begin. The Standard's announcement that Gen French's cavalry are returning to Bloemfontein is clear proof that there is no further hope of catching the retreating Boers, and the London papers are beginning to display impatience at the practical failure of the elaborate preparations of last week.

The Daily Chronicle remarks: "We are reluctant to criticise Lord Roberts, but it is impossible to shut our eyes to the fact that, during the last ten days we have gained very little from our enormous display of force."

Ongent Need of Horses.

Without doubt these operations have been of a very exhausting nature, and will entail further delay. The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Times, writing on March 3, after the Paardeberg affair, describes Lord Roberts' army as a "wreck," because it was without horses and without transport. The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Post speaks now of the urgent need at present and always of more horses.

The sudden decision of the Boer peace delegates to go to America is attributed to the fact that the government of the Netherlands, after sounding all the European capitals, told them they had nothing to hope from Europe.

Col. Dalgety's force at Wepener numbered 1,700. His losses during the siege were 30 killed and 149 wounded.

It is reported that there was an artillery engagement Sunday at Kree Siding, but no details have been received.

Boers Driven Out.

London, April 30.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Daily Chronicle, telegraphing Saturday, says: "A cavalry reconnaissance 25 miles northeast encountered 400 Boers. The British drove them out of a kopje north of Kree. Our outposts are still harassed by moving commandoes. In an outpost affair on Thursday several Boers were killed. The enemy will certainly make a stand at Kroonstad, where they have constructed miles of trenches."

Country Is Clear.

Thaba N'Chu, April 30.—The adjacent country is now clear, the Boers having retired toward Ladybrand. There are interesting developments ahead.

Boers Disappointed.

London, April 30.—The Standard's special correspondent at Bloemfontein, telegraphing Sunday evening, says: Reports have just been received that the Boers are retiring to the north of Ladybrand. Their horses are exhausted and they themselves disappointed over their failure to capture Col. Dalgety's position. The British cavalry, who were pursuing the fugitive commandoes, are returning to Bloemfontein.

The Boer Retreat.

London, April 30.—The Bloemfontein correspondent of the Standard, telegraphing Sunday, says: The Boers have taken every advantage of the mountainous nature of the country which marks the line of their retreat to Ladybrand. The task of driving them is difficult, and it is doubtful whether they can be reduced to submission in a district so favorable to their tactics.

Will Hold Thaba N'Chu.

Bloemfontein, April 30.—It is understood that the British will continue to hold Thaba N'Chu, owing to its strategic importance, and especially with a view of checking future raids. The commandoes that had recently been operating in the direction of Thaba N'Chu are melting away, the Boers quietly returning to their farms, and many of them taking the oath of allegiance. Experience has shown, however, in many cases that this is only a pretense to enable the Boers to create disturbances in the rear of the British, and vigorous methods will probably be necessary to force real disarmament.

Will Re-enter.

London, April 30.—According to a special dispatch from Thaba N'Chu dated Sunday, the British troops, now that the adjacent country is cleared of the Boers, who trekked hurriedly in the direction of Ladybrand, will recuperate for a short period.

Commandant Olivier Wounded.

Aliwal North, April 30.—It is reported here that Commandant Olivier was wounded at Wepener last Monday. Six New Zealanders, while scouting, fought six Boers, killing three and wounding three. One New Zealander was wounded. The inhabitants of Rouxville do not know to which government they belong, as there is no civil administration there.

Coming to America.

The Hague, April 30.—The members of the Boer peace commission will sail from Rotterdam for the United States next Thursday evening by the Holland American line steamer Maasdam. Dr. Leyds and Dr. Mueller will not accompany the delegates.

Holding the Hills.

Thaba N'Chu, April 30.—Gen. French sent the Third and Fourth cavalry brigades on separate reconnaissances around the hills east of the town.

The enemy, it was found, held the hills strongly, though evidently only a rear guard, as no transport was visible. The Boers are now holding a very steep row of hills east.

THE FAMINE IN INDIA.

Mass Meeting Under the Auspices of the Ecumenical Conference Held in Carnegie Hall.

New York, April 30.—Carnegie hall was not filled when the Indian famine mass meeting, under the auspices of the ecumenical conference, was called to order Sunday night by President Seth Low, of Columbia university.

Mr. Low then introduced Rev. Dr. John H. Barrows, president of Oberlin university. Mr. Barrows described the differences and the selfishness of castes. He said that India was a continent rather than a country. A continent with nearly 300,000,000 people, one-third of which were on the verge of starvation.

Rev. Dr. Downie, of the Delagoa country, India, responded to the ques-

A SERMON TO ODD FELLOWS

Gospel of the Good Samaritan
Is Impressed.

Lodge Attends Congregational Church in Body.

Rev. W. J. Cady preached a special sermon to the Odd Fellows at the Congregational church Sunday morning. He did not mention the doctrine of the social crusaders direct but his sermon largely had to do with their teaching. The preacher contended that the church was preaching the true doctrine of love but admitted that it might be lame in the practice of it. He does not believe in reforming the world through laws but through the individual—not in reforming the individual by first reforming society, but by working reforms by first planting love in the individual heart.

Benton Harbor Odd Fellows and Rebekahs to the number of upwards of 100 attended the service at the Congregational church Sunday morning. The church was decorated for the occasion with flowers, evergreens and the emblem of the order—the three links and the motto, "F. L. T."—was prominently hung back of the pulpit. Special music was furnished by the choir, of which the special features were solos by Mrs. W. J. Cady and Mrs. Charles Stone.

The pastor, Rev. W. J. Cady, preached from the parable of the Good Samaritan, the Bible story upon which is founded much of the pretty ritual of the Odd Fellows.

The lawyer in the text asked Christ what he must do to inherit eternal life. When told he must "love the Lord thy God with all thy soul and strength and thy neighbor as thyself," he asked who was his neighbor. Then came the parable of the Good Samaritan teaching that those in distress and needy even though strangers, were his neighbors.

The speaker said that it was no matter to the priest and Levite that the poor beaten man was suffering and now it is no matter in this age of commercialism if a few millions starve, no matter if a few million Chinamen perish, no matter if there are a few less Aborigines, for it makes more room for the right, it makes more room for the Caucasian, but it matters much to Him who taught self-sacrificing love to see the strong nations oppressing the weak and it matters more to Him if the oppression is carried on under the guise of philanthropy, if the guise of Christian philanthropy is used to push forward commercialism. The giving of ill-gotten gains to worthy institutions cannot wash away the sin of the getting.

Christ did not condemn the priest and the Levite but He lifts up and commands the Samaritan because the latter exalts by living and doing the preaching of the other two. The church is being attacked for not living and preaching the doctrine as set forth in the parable. The church perhaps that has not practiced it but I deny that it has not preached it. Wherever the parable of the Good Samaritan is preached there is preached love. The church stands for laws that will bring men closer together. It does not expect to overturn present systems to make men unselfish. It does not expect to make the whole unselfish while the individual is selfish, but supplanting selfishness for love in the individual! It hopes to make society less selfish. It teaches that individuals must learn that God desires every individual to come into harmony with himself.

The pastor praised Odd Fellowship, which holds aloft the story of the Good Samaritan. He asked them always to remember where there was a soul that is stricken there is their field of labor. The three principles of the order—Friendship, Love and Truth—not only link men together but also link them to God. At each meeting of the 17,000 lodges of Odd Fellows is asked and wasting vitality make their presence known through headaches, dizziness, inability to sleep, loss of appetite and a general run-down condition of the system. These signs are sometimes accompanied by neuralgia, hysteria, rheumatism or nervous prostration in some other form. To remove these troubles, cure the nerves. They need feeding, strengthening and building up, and nothing will do this so quickly and so surely as Dr. Miles' Nervine. This truly remarkable medicine is gaining hundreds of new friends every day. Here is a surveyor from Decatur, Ind., Mr. G. E. McLean, who writes:

"A chronic stomach trouble, which my physician was unable to overcome, so wore on my nervous system that I broke down with nervous prostration. I could not sleep day or night except in fitful naps; could scarcely eat any kind of food and wasted away to a mere shadow. After spending over $500.00 in a vain search for relief, I was prevailed upon to try Dr. Miles' Nervine. Relief came immediately. I took six bottles and today am a well man."

Dr. Miles' Nervine is sold at all druggists on a positive guarantee. Write for free advice and booklet to Dr. Miles Medical Co., Elkhart, Ind.

CRALL CAPTURED.

SHERIFF FERGUSON FOUND HIM ON CITY OF LOUISVILLE.

Through the efforts of Chief of Police Johnson, Sheriff Ferguson and Deputy Sheriff Tennant captured William Crall, the trusty who escaped from the county jail a week ago, last night.

Early last evening Crall was seen in this city and the officers were notified, and at once commenced to search for him. He was traced to the steamer City of Louisville and Officer Johnson telephoned the sheriff that Crall was on the boat. When the Louisville tied up in St. Joseph the sheriff and his deputy stepped aboard the boat and after searching some time found the fugitive stowed in the hold of the boat with the freight.

Crall was taken to the county jail and after serving out his unexpired term he will be arrested on another warrant and will probably receive a sentence to Ionia.

Crall says he has tramped all over the country surrounding the twin cities since he escaped.

FACTORIES WANT SITES.

Twenty Chicago Manufacturing Institutions Now Want New Locations.

It is reported that twenty manufacturing institutions now located in Chicago are looking for sites to establish themselves outside of the city.

The reasons are various, but most of them cite the lack of switching facilities and the constant recurrence of trouble with labor organizations.

The following concerns are now looking for suitable locations to establish themselves in some town outside of the city:

Otis Elevator company, 340 Dearborn street, elevators.

Hamilton Organ company, 89 West 14th place, organs.

Sargent & Co., 59th and Wallace streets, railroad supplies.

The Winslow Bros. Co., 368 Carroll avenue, ornamental iron.

Smith & Barnes, Wabash avenue and Jackson boulevard, pianos.

George P. Bent, 245 Washington boulevard, pianos.

According to M. H. Kilgallen, general manager of the Chicago Heights Land Association, there are two other companies who do not care to have their names mentioned until after they secure a new location.

Geology works in a thousand queer ways. To destroy the appearance of things. The atmosphere changes the sound of the sea. And the bell which the sexton rings.

Old age makes us deaf, we hear not the pipes. Nor our daughter who in the choir sings; But no matter how old or how deaf we may be, We still hear the voice of our dear little things.

Our poor little things have been taken away, They were called to a far better shore: Deaf to their voices in the bid of their youth.

And we'll not see them here any more; But we'll meet our dear angels in Heaven above, Yes, in Heaven we'll see those blue eyes;

Where they never again will be taken away, But will dwell with the King the most wise.

IT is sheer Pingree luck that the governor found out he is a democrat before the state nominating convention of that party is held.

SECRETARY Root says that the United States must in a few years give up the Monroe doctrine or fight for it. And the secretary proposes to fight.

Governor Pingree says he believes the hope of the country is in the democratic party. This is the first time the governor has referred to himself as "the country."

THE Hon. F. Militaryman Van Horn, president of the state barbers' commission, knows what he is about, from a democratic standpoint. He was accused of following Pingree into the republican party. Instead Pingree has followed him into the democratic fold.

ATTORNEY Fye requested Judge Coolidge to issue an order compelling THE EVENING NEWS to suppress all mention of the Berrien Springs university case. The court is not so far advanced in his ideas as Mr. Fye and he held with all the rest of the people now living that the province of a newspaper is to print the news.

THE stand of W. C. Hovey in regard to his street car project is to be commended. Not on his account will any improvement for the city be delayed. If any company is able to do what he has thus far been unable to do he will not stand in their way.

WHEN preachers are prohibited from preaching, when lawyers are prohibited from practicing law, when judges are prohibited from expounding the statutes, when farmers are prohibited from farming, Attorney Fye will secure an order prohibiting a newspaper from printing the news.

Deafness Cannot be Cured by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75c. Hall's Family Pills are the best.

How a German Baker and His Best Girl Were Brought Together by a Fortune Teller.

Senator Depew has introduced a bill in congress authorizing the secretary of war to expend $150,000 for the purchase of Constitution Island, in the Hudson, directly opposite West Point, the scene of some of the most stirring episodes in the revolution, and later the home of one of America's most celebrated writers and philanthropists. The bill has influential support, and it is believed will become a law during the present session of congress. If the island is purchased a huge storage magazine will be erected there.

The introduction of this bill recalls the interesting history of this property. It derives its name from a fort which was erected on it during the revolution under the supervision of Gen. Kosciusko. Its crumbling remains are still visible. When the British endeavored to sail up the Hudson to the relief of Burgoyne the massive iron chain which was stretched across the Hudson near the fort prevented the passing of the fleet.

Just beyond the fort, on a wooded bluff, stands a unique old wooden structure. During the revolution, and while the American forces were campaigning in the north, Washington occupied this house for some time.

Years ago the site became the property of a well-known American named Warner. It was his intention to improve the island and build a home, but he met with business reverses. The island after his death became the property of his daughter, Miss Susan B. Warner. When her father became financially embarrassed she took up her pen, with the hope of retrieving the family's shattered fortunes. She immediately became famous as an authoress, and was enabled to largely pay off the debts of her father. When she died her pen was taken up by her sister, Anna B. Warner, who now occupies the old mansion on Constitution island.

It was the wish of both sisters that old Constitution island, when the last of the Warner family should have passed away, should become the property of some church missionary society.

General Botha.

Botha, the new commandant general of the Transvaal burghers, is a man of 56 years. In peace times he raises cattle and sheep on his range in the Vryheid district. He first distinguished himself as a fighter in Gen. Lucas Meyer's campaign against the blacks, about ten years ago. According to Correspondent Hillegas, of the New York World, he wears shockingly bad clothes, and has never yet been persuaded to visit the photographer. The "h" in his name is silent.

A baker of Nuremberg, in Germany, recently proposed marriage to a girl in a singular manner. Minna and Henry are their names, but as to their family names there is no clue, since the German papers which tell the story considerably refrain from publishing them. Minna had been keeping house for Henry for the last few years, and gradually the two had fallen very much in love with each other. Minna, however, would have died sooner than let Henry know how she felt toward

BOY FIGHTS A CATAMOUNT.

In Rescued by a Woman When Nearly Killed, and She Is Then Attacked.

Charlie Gallagher, ten years old, was nearly killed by a large catamount the other day within two miles of the town of Clifton Forge, Va., where his father, Bryant Gallagher, lives. The boy, with several companions, was gathering wild flowers in a ravine when the animal sprang on Gallagher from an unseen cover. The other boys were badly scared and ran away. Young Gallagher fought the catamount manfully, and was almost stripped naked and torn until he was bleeding from head to foot.

He succeeded in getting near enough to William Wiltshire's cabin to make his cries heard. Wiltshire's wife was at home and rushed to the boy's aid, beating off the animal with a broom. The catamount also attacked the woman, but she dragged the boy inside her door and closed it. Wiltshire finally reached home, and the infuriated beast sprang on him as soon as he came near, but he succeeded in killing the animal with a club.

The catamount was a female, and its savage attack was supposed to be on account of the boy approaching near her cubs.

The Itinerant Parsonage

By C. A. Stephens.

IF ANYONE had asked me, 20 years ago, to pick from all the young men of my acquaintance the one least likely to become minister of the Gospel, I should without hesitation have named Jackson Williams. For Williams was a very plain youth, of a shrewd, practical turn of mind, sharp at a bargain and given to acquiring property. He was of that type of young man who eventually becomes wealthy in small village communities; he was afflicted, moreover, with a confirmed defect of speech, which in itself would seem a fatal obstacle to success as a clergyman.

At the age of 22 "Old Jacky," as we called him, married Rosilla Cahill, whom we all knew as the brightest, quickest-witted girl in town, although not perhaps the most beautiful. In mind she was not a little like Jackson, but was more merry-hearted and humorous. In discussing, at their wedding, their prospects in life, their friends were agreed that they were certain to prosper; or, as one expressed it: "Nobody need worry about Jack and Rosy! Why, they will own the whole town by the time they are 50!"

A few months later Jackson Williams attended a series of meetings presided over by a great revivalist. He experienced a profound change in his convictions of duty, and determined to devote his life to the active promotion of the Christian religion. In the following autumn he began to study for the ministry at a Methodist conference seminary, and in due course entered on his labors as an itinerant minister of that denomination.

It was suspected that his young wife was much dissatisfied with their changed prospects; but, if so, she refrained from expressing her feelings, even to her intimate friends, and set herself faithfully to become a helpmeet to her husband in his chosen vocation.

The ideal popular clergyman of the present generation appears to be a personally graceful, eloquent, emotional man. Jackson Williams was no such man. In the pulpit he was conservative and dry in all that he said or advised, and his defect of speech helped his cautious words in making him appear lacking in zeal and eloquence.

The ideal minister's wife, too, seems to be an easy-going woman of a social, sympathetic nature, not much distressed about her house or home, but inclined to take life calmly and float with the tide. Rosy Williams was the reverse of that type. She longed for something permanent and stable in life, and lay awake nights planning how she might save $25 a year from her husband's meager, uncertain salary. When their children, Dolly and Jackson, Jr., began to go to school, she became even more solicitous to shield them from the ill consequences of their itinerant life.

But fate seemed against her. Jackson Williams rarely remained for more than a year on one "circuit" or parish. The preexisting elders of his conference had discovered his useful qualities, as well as his defects as a preacher. Whenever there was a church which was financially weak, or lacked a parsonage, or was in need of repairs or of reorganization, there they sent Jackson Williams.

In such a place his shrewdness, thrift and good hard sense came into play, with the result that often in a single year, always in two, the church was repaired or rebuilt, or a new parsonage erected, or the church committees reorganized and stimulated to activity, as the case called for. But as a consequence of the expenditures which he got his parishioners to make on the church, he usually left, to go to another similarly degenerate place, with half his — all salary in arrears and his wife in despair. For there were numerous "run down" churches in our state, and the presiding elders kept my poor friend going.

At Link's Mill, where the Williamses were stationed during the year 1898, the condition of affairs had, as usual, been bad. The old parsonage had burned in October, 1897; and after the fire it was discovered that, owing to the neglect of the church stewards, the insurance had been allowed to lapse months before.

Yet during that year Jackson Williams had contrived to get a snug little parsonage of five rooms built and paid for at a cost of only $100 besides his own labor. On the other hand, when he went to attend the annual conference at Lancaster, on April 1st this salary was fully $500 in arrears.

Mrs. Williams stayed at home to care for her family, in some faint hope that they would not be sent to another circuit, since they had but recently moved into the new parsonage.

On the evening of the seventh, a letter from Williams informed his wife that she must again pack her household goods. "But we have not far to move this time," he added. "It is only five miles. They are going to send me to Marston, down at the foot of the lake. But the church there has no parsonage," he added, "and I suppose we shall have to rent a house until I go ahead and build one as I did at Mills."

It would be difficult for anyone except an itinerant minister's wife to realize the bitterness of soul which fell on Mrs. Rosy Williams as she reflected her husband's letter. But as calmly as possible she explained to Dolly, aged 15, and Jackson Jr., aged 13, that they must stay at home from school on the next day to help her in packing.

Dolly burst forth in lamentations, "Our new, pretty house that papa made! Have we got to leave it, mother?" she cried.

"Yes," replied the mother, sadly, "and have the 'most of your father's money, too, I fear."

"And live in some old dirty place down at Marston, as we did a year ago at Simontown!" cried the little girl. "I don't care! I think it is too bad! I think this house belongs to us—or ought to!"

Mrs. Williams thought so, too. Something of her girlish spirit suddenly revived, and it bore fruit that evening in an exploit which will not soon be forgotten in that part of the state.

The weather was still very cold. Snow lay on the ground, and the two feet or more of ice on the lake had not yet broken up, or thawed perceptibly. Just across the lake from Link's Mills, a crew of loggers with their teams were "browsing" spruce logs. At sunset they were not a little surprised to see the minister's wife approaching on the ice. Her errand was soon made known. She wished to hire them to draw the new parsonage to Marston, and she wanted to have the job done before six o'clock on the following morning!

The foreman of the crew laughed, and returned an evasive answer. Finding that the men could not be induced to attempt such a queer and doubtful job, merely for hire, Mrs. Williams then told the whole story, and appealed to them to help her through with her project. This appeal put a different complexion on the affair. It tickled the humor and, no doubt, touched the hearts of the lumbermen.

"We'll do it, ma'am!" exclaimed the foreman grinning broadly. "You get your crockery down off'n the shelves and your stovepipe cool. We'll be over by nine or ten, and fetch chains and skids and a couple of logs for 'shoes' to haul it on."

The Methodist church at Link's Mills stands a little apart from the village proper, and is separated from the rest of the place by a pine grove where

 "WE'LL DO IT, MA'AM." there is a cemetery. The new parsonage stood a few rods beyond the church. If passers along the road saw teams arriving there late in the evening, they paid little attention. Loggers' teams often passed.

The loggers worked quietly and quickly. Before 11 o'clock the little new parsonage, with the minister's wife, family and household goods still in it, started on its singular journey — first down to the lake shore, then out on the ice, and so onward to Marston, where the people were greatly astonished and mystified next morning to see it, set close to their weather-beaten meeting house, and making it look like an old soldier who had suddenly married a very young wife!

Smoke was rising from the chimney, and all curious inquirers at the door were met by Mrs. Williams in person, who cheerfully informed them that she was their new minister's wife, and brought her parsonage along with her!

The people of Marston could find no fault with such a windfall, but the people of Link's Mills were greatly agitated.

A member of the church, a farmer, driving into the village with vegetables next morning, was the first to notice the absence of the parsonage.

"Well, I'll be planted and hoed!" he gasped. "What's missin'?"

"Brother Blodgett, d'you know our parsonage is gone?" he asked of the first person he met, who chanced to be one of the church stewards.

"Gone?" was the surprised ejaculation. "Where could it go to?"

"Dunno; but it ain't there, sartin."

The steward hastened to the church. Sure enough, all traces of the parsonage had disappeared! With dismayed faces, the two then went in quest of other brethren and told the strange news. Few would believe it until they had gone to view the vacant site for themselves.

A crowd gathered, wondered and searched. It was not until nearly noon that the facts became known. Many were very angry, and a meeting of the church members was held that evening to decide what should be done.

As the proceedings were talked over, the insurance had gone to zero.

But even the extra charge for butter made from senatorial cows the senator's farm is much more of a fad than an investment, and none of his friends begrudge him the pleasure in his old days of watching the chickens scratch up his Virginia garden.

Board of Agriculture Enforces Old Order to Keep Rabies Out—The Experience of Charge d'Affaires White.

American tourists who usually take their pet dogs with them cannot bring them into England this year. The board of agriculture has put into rigid enforcement an old order forbidding the temporary entrance into England of foreign dogs.

Rabies has been exterminated in Great Britain. The last case known of was in Wales last November. Only seven cases are recorded for the preceding year. Eleven hundred deaths of human beings from hydrophobia are of record in Great Britain during the last 51 years. Under the measures taken by the government the yearly number of deaths and cases has dwindled to nothing.

Now that the disease has vanished the determination is to keep it out.

The absolute character of the prohibition has been brought to the attention of the American embassy by Henry White, the United States chargé d'affaires, trying to bring in a fox terrier. Mr. White was informed that in his particular case he could take the dog from the ship and carry it ashore by constructive violence, that is, the dismaying possibilities that his dog would protect Mr. White from arrest. But this Mr. White would not do and he stands with the rest of his countrymen in not being able to bring in a pet dog.

Michael Cudahy was in Dordlin three weeks ago and he caused some amusement by dictating to a stenographer in the Staibourne hotel a long cable message to his Chicago manager in regard to sending over a favorite dog, the idea of supposing that a dog could be gotten in at all is held by Dubliners to be the point of the story, which is told to illustrate the sublime coincidence of Americans.

FAILS TO FLY.

South Dakota Man's Invention Proves to Be Too Heavy for Little Flying Power.

Information has been received at Sioux Falls, S. D., that the airship constructed by Henry Wulf, of Aurora, Brookings county, under the direction of Henry Heintz, the inventor, has finally been tested. The men have been working on the machine at odd times for several years, a well-known business man at Elkton having given them the necessary financial backing, and general interest has been manifested in the result of the test.

Several eastern scientific journals and syndicate agencies have written for descriptions of the test and photographs of the airship itself as well as the inventor and the man who constructed it. The machine was expected to solve the problem of aerial navigation. Heintz' patent was said to have covered many points which were eagerly sought after by other inventors, but he has invariably declined to sell the whole or any part of his rights.

It was expected that the machine would be completed so tests could be made early in March, but through delays in the arrival of material the airship was not completed until a few days ago. The test did not result satisfactorily, the reason given being that it "proved to the mechanic doing the work that it required too heavy power to do the lifting." It has not been decided as yet whether efforts will be made to remedy, if possible, this defect so that further tests can be made.

IN DAIRY BUSINESS.

Washington Officials Sell Butter and Eggs from Their Farms to Society Folk.

Every spring official Washington is recommended to pay from ten to fifteen cents extra on the pound for butter, because it comes from some senator's or congressman's farm. One administration found the receipts of a supreme court judge's wife a social place where trade in butter was solicited, and so, accordingly, that more than one hundred persons, dealers and diners were supplied with the product of the Tennessee dairy farm of Justice Senator Stewart's Virginia. It is one of the best known that looks to see if for patronage, and one dealer, unblushingly makes a bid for the new cents extra on the pound that a senator's stamp will bring. Mrs. Fox, the senator's daughter, inherits her father's love of farming, and has spent some summers on the place experimenting with butter-making, chicken raising and house parties. But even with the extra charge for butter made from senatorial cows the senator's farm is much more of a fad than an investment, and none of his friends begrudge him the pleasure in his old days of watching the chickens scratch up his Virginia garden.

A SINGLE STANDARD

REV. BEEM WOULD APPLY IT TO BOTH SEXES.

The largest congregation that has yet assembled to listen to Rev. A. K. Beem, the new pastor of the Universalist church, gathered Sunday morning to hear his second sermon on "Purity." Following are a few extracts of his discourse on "A Single Standard for Both Sexes."

Pudrery may be despised, but purity, never. Even the stained and soiled life in its truer, sinner moments is glad to testify in purity's behalf. When the spirit of man speaks clearly, he has a loyal defender. There is something more than poetry in the following lines:

"There lies in the center of each man's heart a longing and love for the good and pure."

The time has come when intellect is on the throne and brawn is being subordinated. So much, so good, but with only pure, cold intellect dominating, the ideal cannot be realized. It will be possible to adopt the kind of single standard I have in mind only when the material and intellectual are transfigured by the spiritual and soulfulness is manifested in its full measure.

All forces and influences should be made to conspire to aid each individual, regardless of sex, to become the noblest type of being possible. It means equality in the sense that we will aid each and all to be equally free to live out a complete and perfect life in accordance with his or her own inner nature. No person should be so hedged about by superficial conventionalities as to be compelled to do violence to those peculiarities which go to make him or her a distinct individual, different from all other individuals in the world. God never intended humanity to be formed after the style of a Chinese garden. The normal soul cries out of the depths of its being, "O, for a season of real freedom, freedom to be my honest, highest self!"

It is not woman's rights that we want, nor yet is it man's rights, but human rights. Be it forever remembered that "Woman's cause is man's; they rise or sink together, dwarfed or godlike, bond or free." A single standard for both sexes: why not? Nothing is too good for either man or woman. Our motto should be: "A clean, white life for both." Manliness, no less than womanliness, is born of pure thinking, chaste living. Sowing "wild oats" by our boys is just as serious a matter as the same conduct on the part of our girls and it should be so considered.

Young woman, the time has come when you should persistently demand, not simply in sentence of words, but demand by every holy instinct of your being, demand by all your manner and bearing, that for purity on your part you must have purity in return. I believe there is an increasing number of young men who are justly proud of trying to be as pure in thought and deed as are their sisters for whose virtue they would lay down their very lives.

What is our attitude toward the unfortunate sister or brother? Is it one and the same toward both? Are we willing—ah, that is not strong enough—are we glad to pour out such soul-virtue as will nourish the weak and discouraged back to life? Are we happy in giving people those close, heart to heart touches that show them we do care for their sorrows, their hopes and their aspirations? Friends, do we want to live on the very heights of spiritual being? Do we want to crowd into the few years of our earth life something of those riches known to Jesus, the Christ? Then, let us unite whenever opportunity affords to make it possible for not only men but women as well to

"Rise on stepping-stones
Of their dead selves to higher things."

passenger engines ever built, and as to fast running, they have been

Now what do you suppose happened?

A mogul, class H-2, No. 1091, fairly well born, to be sure, but comparatively a lightweight, with but very little brass work about her, used principally in the freight service and considered an excellent steady old girl, was the other day in a case of emergency hooked on to the fast mail No. 8 at Burlington, and came sailing into Chicago, 203 8-10 miles, in exactly 205 minutes—after stopping on the way seven times to take a drink. At Mendota she stopped six minutes, and the story goes that something a little stronger than water was given her there, because on leaving the town she felt so gay that Aurora, 45 4-10 miles away, was reached in just 40 minutes. A rate of 68 1-10 miles an hour for a mogul! Engineer Gillette and Conductor Cullenberg say it was all done on the square, and that she had nothing to drink at Mendota but pure water.

Well, at any rate, the twins are furious, and they are puffing and blowing about what they will do the next time they are turned loose. They never liked the mogul, and say she is a fast old thing. Probably after this they won't whistle as she passes by.

PINGREE LINES UP.

Leaves No Doubt as to His Political Attitude.

TENDENCIES STATED IN INTERVIEW.

He Declares That the Only Hope for the American People Lies in the Success of the Democratic Party.

Detroit, Mich., April 30.—Gov. Pingree asserted, in an interview Sunday, that the hope of the people in this year's general elections is in the democratic party. The governor has always hitherto been an independent republican. Speaking of the increasing power of trusts, Gov. Pingree said:

"There is no use in hoping that the republican party will do anything with them."

"Are you preparing to announce your withdrawal from the republican party?" the governor was asked.

"There is no announcement about it. I only say what I have said all the while. You haven't heard me say anything against the democrats for some time. I believe that the hope of the people is in the democratic party this fall."

SYMPATHY FOR BOERS.

Resolutions Are Presented in the Senate—Absence of a Quorum Prevents Action.

Washington, April 30.—Quite unexpectedly, the senate on Saturday was brought face to face with the proposition to extend its sympathy to the Boers in their war with Great Britain. In the midst of the consideration of bills of minor importance Senator Pettigrew (S. D.) called up the following and asked for its immediate consideration:

"Whereas, From the hour of achieving their own independence the people of the United States have regarded with sympathy the struggles of other people to free themselves from European domination, therefore, be it

"Resolved, That we watch with deep and abiding interest the heroic battle of the South African republics against cruelty and oppression and our best hopes go out for the full success of their determined contest for liberty."

Resolved, That we watch with deep and abiding interest the heroic battle of the South African republics against cruelty and oppression and our best hopes go out for the full success of their determined contest for liberty."

When Senator Lodge (Mass.) had formally ascertained that no committee had reported the resolution to the senate, he moved that it be referred to the committee on foreign relations.

Without a word of debate the vote was taken, 31 senators voting in favor of reference and 11 against it. As the vote disclosed the absence of a quorum, an effort was made to secure one, but it was unsuccessful, and the senate adjourned. Party lines were not drawn in the vote to refer. While all those who voted against reference are in favor of the adoption of the resolution, several senators on both sides of the chamber, who are known to be favorable to the resolution, voted to send it to the committee. As a quorum was not present and voting, the resolution retains its place subject to call at any time. Beyond the passage of a few bills, no business of importance was transacted.

Washington, April 30.—The house passed a number of bills of importance Saturday, and the major portion of the session was devoted to the senate bill to create a commission to adjudicate the claims of citizens of the United States against Spain, assumed by this country in the name of Paris.
